Conference Room FG

Flint, MI

Assistive Technology (AT) enables people with disabilities to participate more fully in all aspects of their lives (home, school, and community).

AT can also help students access their right to a free and appropriate public education in the least restrictive environment.

- Who could benefit from assistive technology?
- What qualifies as AT?
- Where should these supports be documented?
- When should AT be considered?
- Why is AT such a mystery?

This workshop will look to find answers to these questions and others, as well as explore available tools and resources.

Please note: To be good stewards of our funding resources, we need a minimum number of participants registered by the registration deadline for the presentation to be held. If it is after the deadline and you haven't registered, please call or email to check the status of the event. If you require accommodations or materials in an alternative format, please let us know one week before the workshop.

Coordinated by the Michigan Alliance for Families. All workshops are free and open to the public. Michigan Alliance for Families is an IDEA Grant Funded Initiative of the Michigan Department of Education, Office of Special Education, and Michigan's federal Parent Training and Information Center (PTIC) funded by the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Special Education Programs (OSEP).
