

Advocating for Your Child with Epilepsy in School

with Cynthia Leino-Handford from Epilepsy Foundation of Michigan

Learn to advocate for your child with epilepsy in the school system by knowing:

- the laws protecting your child's civil rights and rights to FAPE
- the eligibility difference between a 504 Plan & an IEP
- accommodations and ancillary services to meet educational needs as well as medical needs
- the complaint and resolution process when IEPs and 504s are not being followed
- how to use a Contingency learning plan during times of crisis such as COVID

Who should attend?

Families with a child or young adult with epilepsy/seizure disorder, school staff, other community members
