Good communication between parents and the school district is critical in working together to meet the educational needs of students with disabilities. However, effective communication sometimes needs additional support.

Join this online session to learn more about facilitation and mediation and how these services can support these collaborative conversations to help build a foundation for student achievement. Discover:

- Who is SEMS and what do they offer?
- What is mediation and facilitation? Is there a difference?
- Where do mediation and facilitation fit in with IDEA dispute resolution options?
- When might a parent contact SEMS?
- How to request mediation or facilitation?

Who should attend?

Families with a child with disabilities or learning challenges, school staff, other community members
