

Serving on Special Education Committees with Stephanie Nicholls

Wednesday, August 31, 2022
12:00pm-1:00pm

Register at <https://tinyurl.com/35z42cfb>

This workshop will help you better understand the importance of effective parent representation on special education committees.

Parents can play an important part in these meetings. Your input can improve outcomes for your child and others. We will share information on:

- Types of committees
- Effective involvement
- The importance of the parent voice
- What information to gather when considering serving
- Issues to consider

Who should attend? Families with a child with disabilities or learning challenges who are looking for opportunities to have impact, other interested members of the community

Questions? info@michiganallianceforfamilies.org

