Review Self-Confidence (self-efficacy)

Believing in
_____!

- yourself

[illegible]

Self-Advocacy

Being a self-advocate means...

- Know what you want and what is possible for you
- Have more control of you
- Make life decisions that are best for you
- Have the power to speak-up for yourself and make decisions about your life—what you want, what you need—and know how to get it
- Understand your disability, your strengths, and your challenges
- Follow through on your commitments
- Learn from your mistakes

Self-Advocacy means becoming more and more independent!*

Self-Advocacy

Self-Advocacy IS ✓

- ✓ A civil rights law for people with disabilities
- ✓ Speaking up for yourself
- ✓ Knowing your strengths and challenges
- ✓ Being part of your community
- ✓ Making decisions
- ✓ Learning from mistakes
- ✓ Something we all can do
- ✓ Managing emotions

Self-Advocacy IS NOT ✗

- ✗ A program or fad
- ✗ Complaining or always being negative
- ✗ Criticizing or putting yourself down
- ✗ Staying home and not trying new things
- ✗ Letting others make most of your decisions
- ✗ Not taking chances and repeating mistakes
- ✗ Only for people with disabilities
- ✗ Being angry

Adapted from self-advocacy.org

Self-Advocacy

What self-advocates are saying...

What was 1 thing you heard that was meaningful to YOU?

Self-Advocacy

Civil Rights Law: Americans with Disability Act (ADA)

- Illegal to discriminate against people with disabilities in employment, transportation, public spaces, communications, and access to government programs
- Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) and ADA work together to protect children and adults from discrimination, exclusion, and unequal treatment in education, employment, and in the community
 - IDEA: Individualized Education Program (IEP)-your education plan to meet your specific needs and provide an appropriate education and related supports and services

Increasing your self-advocacy can make you more self-confident and independent

Self-Advocacy

Being able to speak up for yourself can help you at home...

- Deciding when and what to eat; preparing your meals
- Managing and taking medications
- Staying alone
- Being safe in your home
- Budgeting, having a bank account, using an ATM card, checking your account balances
- Getting organized and managing your time

Self-Advocacy

Being able to speak up for yourself can help you at school...

- Knowing accommodations needed (checklists, visuals, longer time on tests, etc.) and asking for them
- Asking for explanations on assignments
- Managing study time (like using resource class to study)
- Discussing concerns with teachers
- Taking part in or leading your IEP or 504 plan and communicating what you need to be successful
- Taking part in planning your transition out of high school

Self-Advocacy

Being able to speak up for yourself and knowing who can help you in the community...

- Knowing your rights
- Where to live and who to live with
- Making medical and other appointments
- Discussing your needs with a doctor
- Handling money and using an ATM card
- Making recreational choices
- Staying safe
- Driving/getting transportation
- Voting

Self-Advocacy

Being able to speak up for yourself and knowing who can help you at work...

- Requesting accommodations, like a quiet setting
- When and what to disclose about any challenges
- Asking your supervisor or co-workers to help clarify questions you have
- Understanding feedback about your performance on the job and use that to improve
- Knowing who to go to with concerns and how to express them

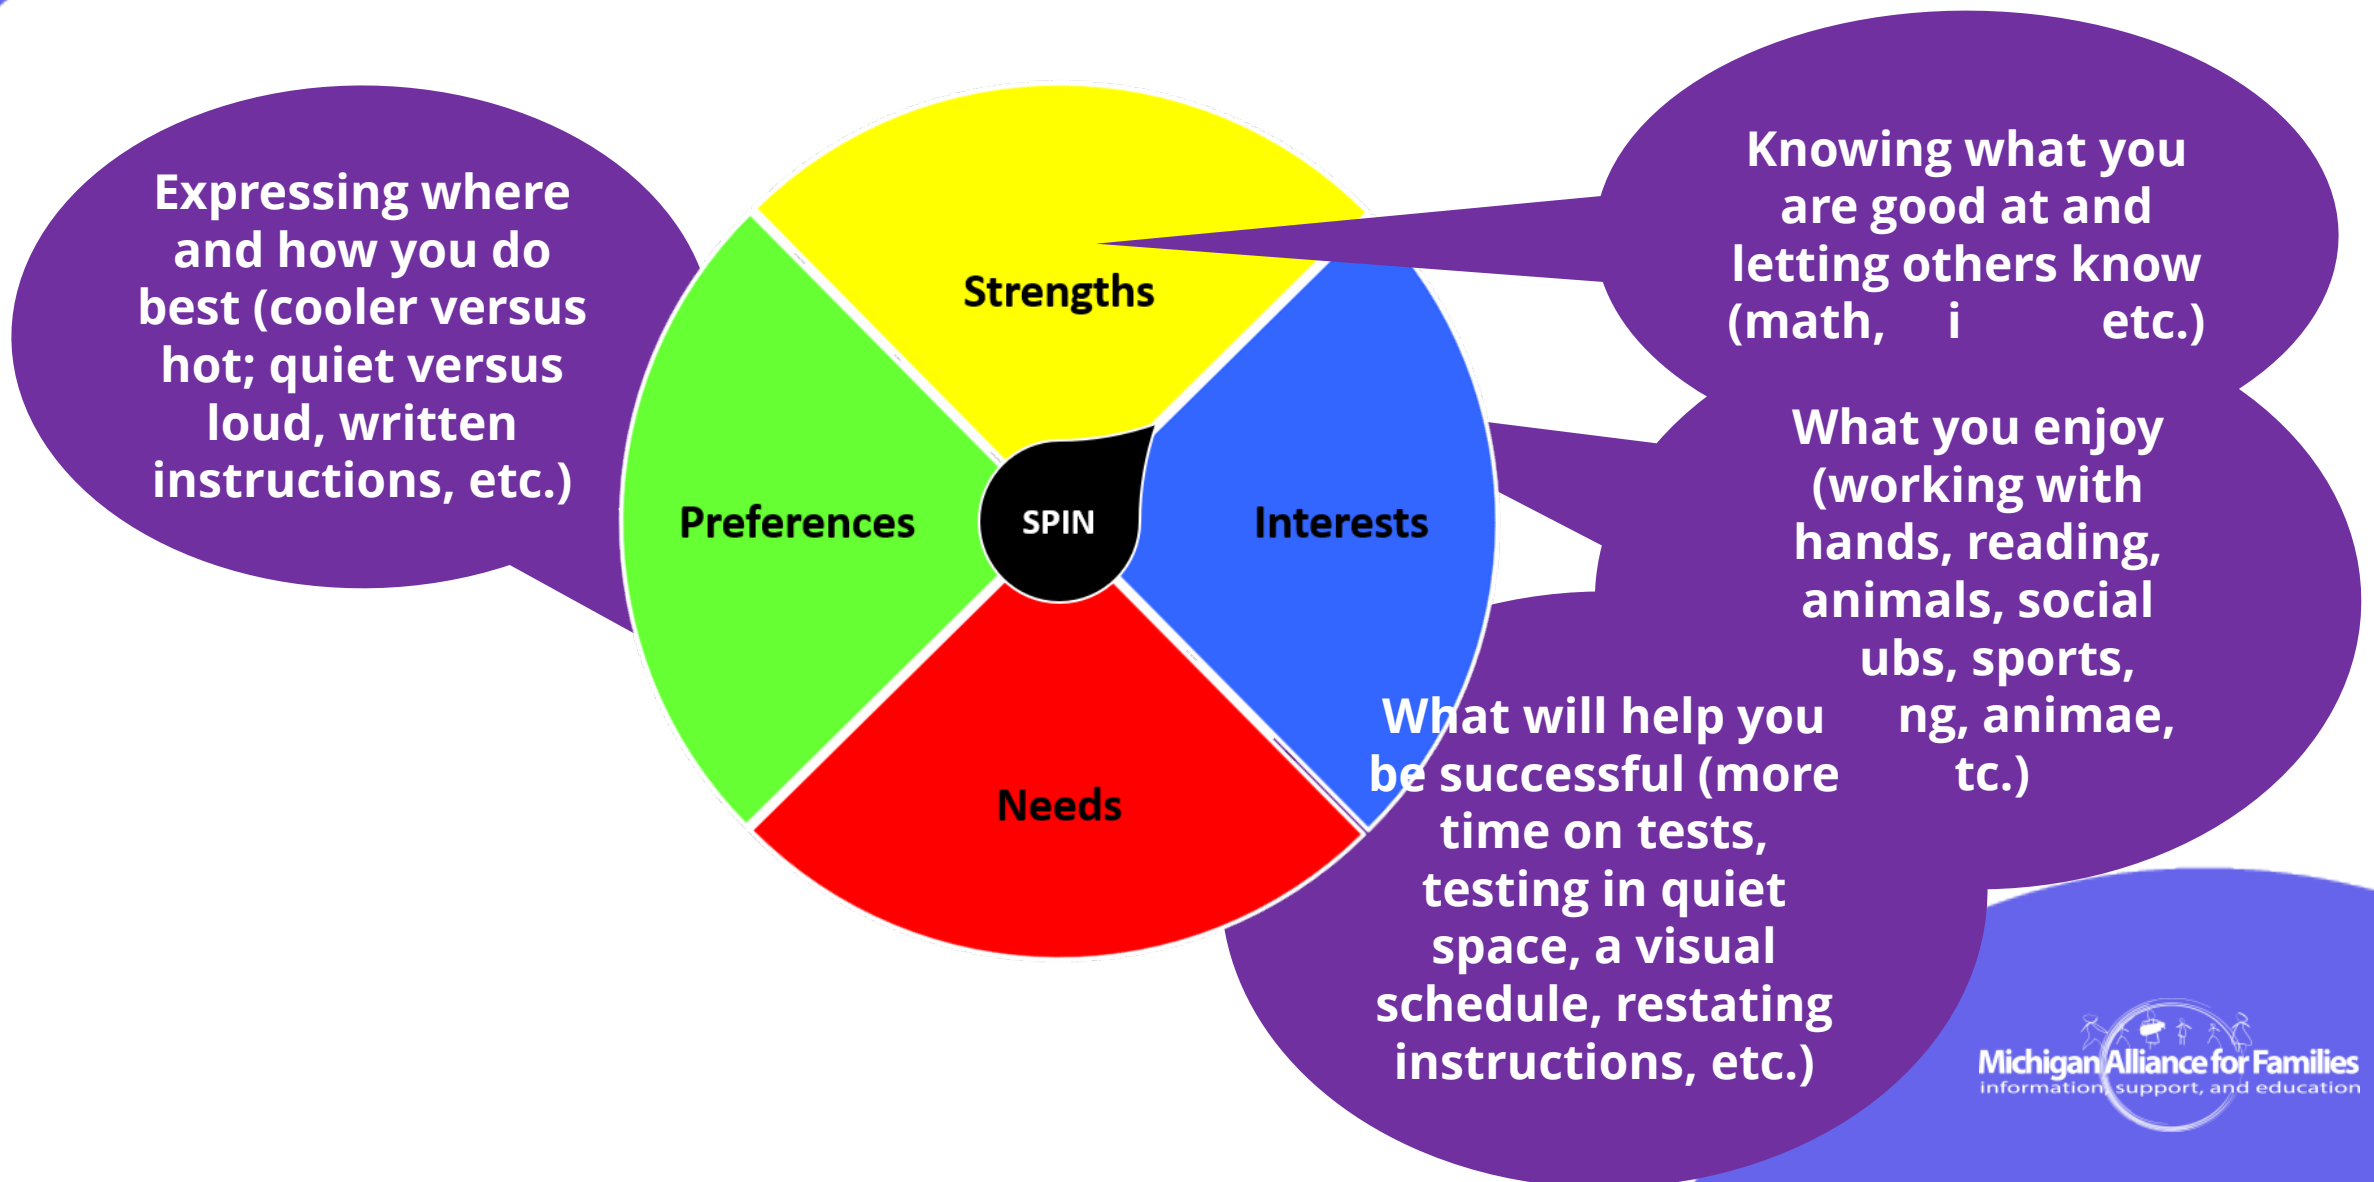

Self-Advocacy

Disclosure

- Letting someone know you have a disability and what's hard for you
- YOU decide if, when, how much to tell
- Disclosing helps in getting accommodations
- May want to think about this ahead of time and decide before you interview, start a job, or start an educational program after high school

Self-Advocacy and Your SPIN and IEP

Self-Advocacy

Which of the following DOES NOT show self-advocacy

(Put A, B, C, or D in chat!)

- A. Disclosing your disability to your employer
- B. Telling your teacher you don't understand an assignment and asking her to explain it differently
- C. Seeing the milk is almost gone, and letting your mom know you added it to the grocery list
- D. Losing your wallet with your ID and money in it and not letting anyone know

Self-Regulation

Self-Regulation

Observing (or monitoring) my own thoughts, emotions, and behavior and taking action to feeling more calm, happy, and positive

It means being more self-aware

Self-Regulation

Self-Regulation includes:

- Noticing when you are getting upset, angry, stressed out, anxious, frustrated
- Understanding what will happen if you behave in certain ways (consequences)
- Taking action to move away from negative emotions to positive emotions
- Managing how we act and respond

Self-Regulation

Why self-regulation is important...

- Helps to stay focused
- Helps to stay motivated (interested)
- Helps with learning
- Helps with keeping jobs
- Helps to reduce anxiety and stress
- Helps to become more independent

Self-Regulation

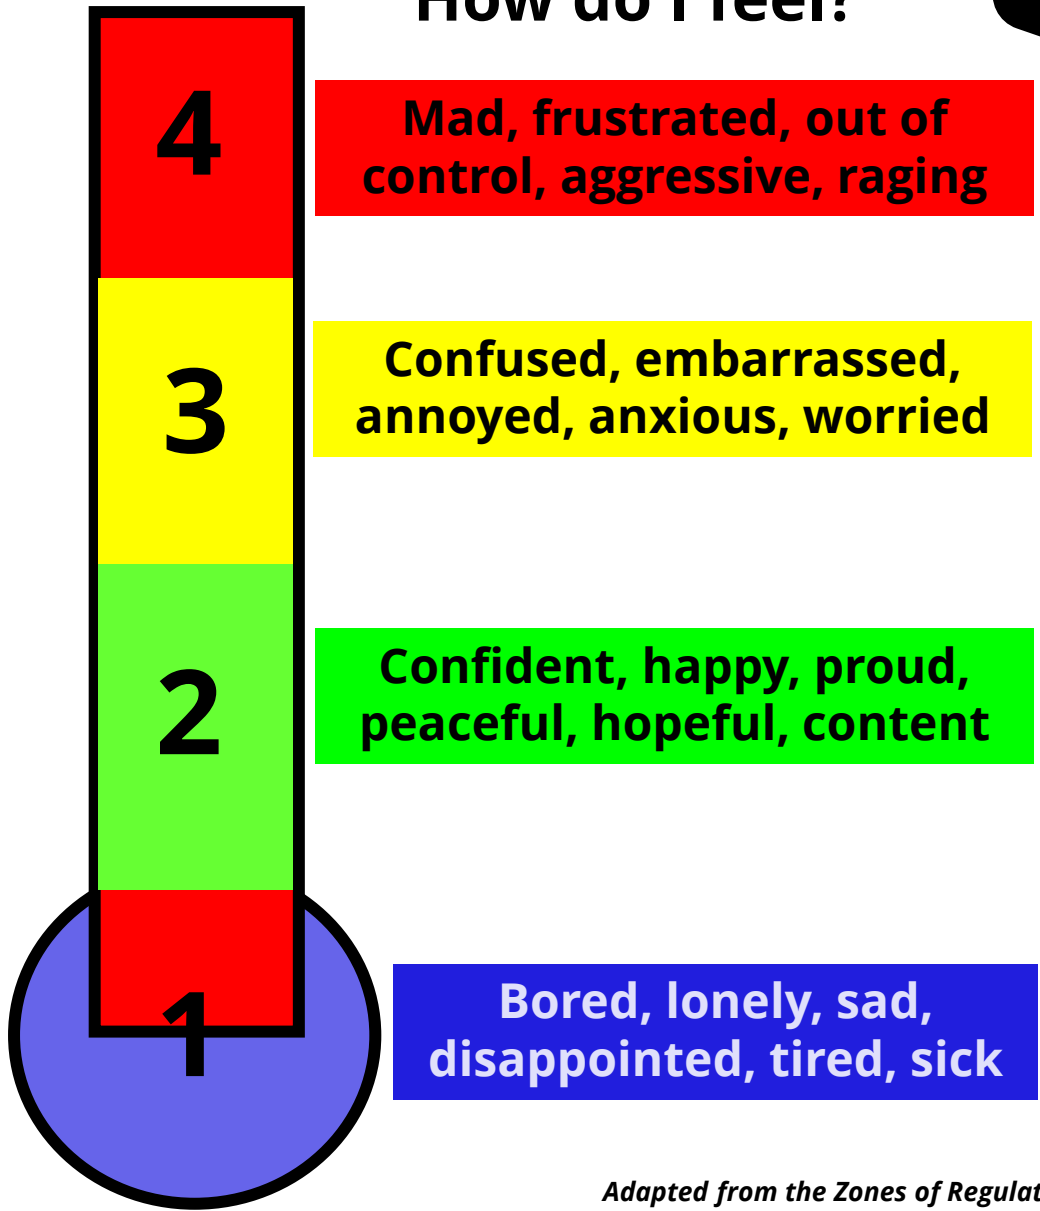

If we have trouble with self-regulation

- Overreact to situations or things that happen
- Have emotional outbursts
- Experience mood swings (being moody)
- Hard to get rid of negative feelings or emotions
- Depend more on others

Zones of Regulation®

How do I feel?

None of the zones are good or bad, this is just a way to recognize our feelings and figuring out ways to change zones

Adapted from the Zones of Regulation®

Self-Regulation

We can change our Zones

- Identify feelings: how do I feel?
- Check behavior: what am I doing?
- Regulate emotions: what can I do about it?

Self-Regulation-Example-1

Identify emotions (How do I feel?)		Check behavior	Regulate Emotions
		How Do I Act?	What Can I Do About It?
4 3 2 1	Mad, frustrated, out of control, aggressive, raging	Shouting, arguing, stomping, shutting down, withdrawing	Exercise, count to 10, read a book, listen to music, take a nap
	Confused, embarrassed, annoyed, anxious, worried	Anxious, pacing, withdrawing, clingy, breathing fast, sweating, tired, not focused, negative self-talk	Ask for help, take a break, positive self-talk, think about your happy place
	Confident, happy, proud, peaceful, hopeful, content	Smiling, engaged, paying attention, laughing	Smile, practice appreciation, work on your goals, help someone else, listen, write or journal about what you are good at or what you have been successful doing
	Bored, lonely, sad, disappointed, tired, sick	Crying, not engaged, sleeping, withdrawn, frowning, no energy	Talk to your family or friends, do something you enjoy, positive self-talk, stretch or exercise, take a walk
