

Mental Health is Essential! And Key to Success at School

Terri Henrizi from Association for Children's Mental Health

Please join the Association for Children's Mental Health to discuss how supporting student's social, emotional, behavioral and mental health needs is key to learning and school success.

During this webinar we will explore and discuss:

- Links between mental health and school performance
- Needs and obstacles of children and youth with mental health challenges at school
- Keys to successfully supporting mental health needs at school
- Strategies to unlock success, get support, access accommodations, make connections and more.

We will also examine a few School Based Mental Health initiatives and other approaches of schools and families that work and share resources and tools to help.

Who should attend? Families with a child or young adult with disabilities or learning challenges, school staff, other community members.
