GOALS FOR TODAY

- Understand that all behavior is communication
- What Makes Sense?
- Illness and Challenging Behaviors
- The Power of Relationships
- Strategies to Prevent Challenging Behavior
- Final thoughts

GROWING UP WITH A BROTHER WITH AUTISM: BEHAVIOR IS COMMUNICATION

IT'S ALL ABOUT THE RELATIONSHIPS!

Love is one of the most profound emotions known to human beings.

RELATIONSHIPS

MATTER

BEHAVIOR IS COMMUNICATION

- The phrase “behavior is communication” refers to an individual’s effort to communicate dislikes, needs, desires, etc., but who cannot do so in a traditional verbal manner because of a communication deficit (e.g., no speech, limited speech), and so communicate through actions.

WHAT DO WE ALL WANT IN LIFE!

What WE ALL Want!

- Be accepted
- Make choices
- Engaged in meaningful activities
- Be surrounded by people who care about us!
- Be listened to and heard by others!
- Be loved

What NONE of us Want!

- Be Ignored
- Thought to be incompetent
- Abused
- Controlled
- Bored
- Ridiculed
- Restrained
- Manipulated
- Disliked

COMMUNICATIVE FUNCTION

- Problem behavior is a way for individuals to communicate or express themselves about variables such as:
 - Lack of choice, control and opportunities
 - A poor quality of life
 - Instructional or behavioral strategies that may not respect individual preferences or needs (e.g., sensory processing problems, unresolved medical issues)
 - Frustration with boredom

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN WE CANNOT COMMUNICATE WHAT WE NEED?

If we cannot communicate something that we need, or want, or don't want, we might:

- Scream
- Cry
- Run away
- Take others toys
- Pull hair
- Scratch
- Make bad choices

“USE YOUR WORDS”

- A person may have a large vocabulary, but may not be able to retrieve the right word and then use it in a way that makes sense to others.
- Just because they can talk doesn't mean they can communicate and every situation calls for a slightly different use of vocabulary, intonation and body!

THE ROLE OF THE SENSORY SYSTEM

WHAT MAKES SENSE...

- Tim was obsessed with doors opening and closing
- Staff called and told me not to come pick him up for dinner because he was crying and screaming.
- Behavior plan was done that included calling the police when he was shaking the doors of apartments in his complex.
- Assigned to work in frozen foods section of a Costco
- He was saying “September 15th”, my mothers birthday. She had recently died and we were approaching September 15th.
- An alternate route in walking around the apartment complex alleviated problems.

WHAT MAKES SENSE?

Does this make sense?

- Grab a persons chin to make them look at you!
- Give tokens to person when they respond
- Behavioral consultants do not know or understand the person whose behavior they are supposed to change
- Persons are ignored unless they perform behavior “correctly”

Unintended outcome:

- They grab others by the chin
- Person will not respond unless there are tokens
- Strategies will be useless and not positive in nature.
- Person is lonely , frustrated and ostracized from others.

CAN A LACK OF CHOICE AND CONTROL CAUSE CHALLENGING BEHAVIOR?

- Research has demonstrated that having choices and control regarding daily life events may decrease problem behavior.
- If an individual has choice and control over their life, their friends, where they live and who spends time with them, we are improving quality of life.
- When we improve quality of life, we are likely to see a decrease in problem behaviors.

THERE IS ALWAYS A REASON FOR THE BEHAVIOR...YOU JUST DO NOT KNOW IT!

CAN PHYSICAL ILLNESS CAUSES CHALLENGING BEHAVIOR?

- Illness (e.g., urinary tract infection, diabetes)
- Side effects of medication
- Food allergies
- Thirst or hunger, or the need to go to the bathroom
- Pain or discomfort (e.g., stomach ache, menstrual cramps)
- Dental problems
- Sitting too long in one position or in wet or soiled diaper
- Dislike of a taste, food type, drug
- Constipation (a common feature when an individual is on medication)

THE ROOT OF ESCALATING BEHAVIOR

Even when an emergency exists it is because of "mistakes made by agents of control, ignorance or emergency situations"

Sidman (1989)

BEHAVIOR IS COMMUNICATION

Behavior

- Biting self or others
- Repeatedly asking to go to the bathroom
- Disrupting class
- Screaming
- Running away
- Getting under desk
- Wetting pants (repeatedly)

What does it mean?

- I do not know what to do next
- I do not like who I am sitting by
- I do not know how to do the work
- I do not like the perfume the teacher is wearing
- I do not like the noises in the room
- I do not know what words to use
- If I am wet then I can get out of this place

POSITIVE BEHAVIORAL SUPPORT

- 1. An Understanding that people do not control others, but seek to support others in their own behavior change.
- 2. A Belief that there is a reason behind most difficult behavior and it should be treated with compassion and respect, as that they are entitled to lives of quality as well as effective services.
- 3. A Conviction to continuously move away from coercion- the use of unpleasant events to manage behavior.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN WE DO NOT LOOK AT BEHAVIOR AS COMMUNICATION?

Confusion, loss of self-esteem, escape,
avoidance,
increased frustration

RECENT NEWS HEADLINES

The following are just a few of the many, many examples of aversive actions done to students with disabilities. These were identified by Lori McIlwain and the GAO Report on Seclusion and Restraint.

- Redwood City teacher accused of slapping, kicking students(CA)
- 230 pound teacher sat on student while he was facedown because he would not stay in seat (Texas)
- Seven year old boy was handcuffed (CA)
- Nine year old boy was in time-out room several hours a day (NY)
- Autistic children in Exley elementary were force fed vinegar soaked cotton balls (CA)
- Teacher punching student caught on video (CA)
- Tied down and blindfolded on bus (CA)
- Teacher hitting pupil (CA)
- Using hot sauce to discipline kids (CA)
- Sixteen year old student restrained facedown for 90 minutes until death (MI)

with Disabilities since 1975.

EMERGENCY OR A SYSTEM FAILURE

When it appears that a person might need to be restrained, secluded, or subjected to aversive interventions, it is because of the lack of our skills to address the situation, or our unwillingness to address the situation, rather than the actual need for such strategies.

POSSIBLE SIGNS OF RESTRAINT AND SECLUSION

- Bruises
- Escalated behaviors
- Anxiety issues
- Increased self-injurious behaviors
- Fear of going to school
- Bedwetting
- Fear of particular teacher
- Crying for unknown reason
- Sleep disturbances
- Not wanting to be alone
- Loss of appetite
- Loss of interest in previously enjoyed activities
- New problems, such as fear of spray bottles, seatbelts or closets

IS THIS BEING USED? PRONE RESTRAINT IS PROHIBITED

US DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION: DEFINITION OF PHYSICAL RESTRAINT

The Civil Rights Data Center (CRDC) defines physical restraint as:

- A personal restriction that immobilizes or reduces the ability of a student to move his or her torso, arms, legs, or head freely. The term physical restraint does not include a physical escort. Physical escort means a temporary touching or holding of the hand, wrist, arm, shoulder, or back for the purpose of inducing a student who is acting out to walk to a safe location.

US DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION DEFINITION OF MECHANICAL RESTRAINT

The CRDC defines mechanical restraint as:

- The use of any device or equipment to restrict a student's freedom of movement.

US DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION DEFINITION OF SECLUSION

The CRDC defines seclusion as:

- The involuntary confinement of a student alone in a room or area from which the student is physically prevented from leaving.

PROBLEMS WITH SECLUSION, RESTRAINT AND AVERSIVE PRACTICES

PREVENTION IS KEY!

- If you can recognize the early warning signs, you may be able to prevent behavioral outbursts.
- For example, if being in a large group of children makes the person feel anxious and they become agitated, you could arrange for them to be in a smaller group or have one-to-one support.

WAYS TO REFRAME BEHAVIOR AS COMMUNICATION

- Presume competence
- Identify strengths
- Give choice and control
- Look for environmental/sensory barriers
- Put yourself in the person's place, would you like to do what they are doing?

FINAL THOUGHTS: GUIDELINES

- Always treat children/persons with dignity
- Presume competence ALWAYS
- Always model your expectations through words and visuals
- Is the person noncompliant or do they not know what the expectations are for the event!
- If possible, ignore inappropriate behaviors
- Use positive terms that say what you want to see.
- Work with children to develop rules that make sense.
- Make reinforcement plans

Compliance with Title IX

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 is the landmark federal law that bans sex discrimination in schools, whether it is in curricular, extra-curricular or athletic activities.

Title IX states: “No person in the U.S. shall, on the basis of sex be excluded from participation in, or denied the benefits of, or be subject to discrimination under any educational program or activity receiving federal aid.”

The Michigan Department of Education (MDE) is in compliance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, as amended, 20 U.S.C. 1681 et seq. (Title IX), and its implementing regulation, at 34 C.F.R. Part 106, which prohibits discrimination based on sex. The MDE, as a recipient of federal financial assistance from the United States Department of Education (USED), is subject to the provisions of Title IX. MDE does not discriminate based on gender in employment or in any educational program or activity that it operates.
