Transition services are a coordinated set of activities that is designed to be results-oriented. These services assist students and youth with disabilities in achieving their post-school and career goals.

During this free, online workshop, learn how employment goals fit into the transition planning process for youth with disabilities.

- How to overcome barriers to employment
- Creating a vision plan for adult life
- How to access vocational rehabilitation services
- Best practices to get and keep the first job

Who should attend?

Self-advocates, families with middle and high school aged children and members of the community who support these students.
